Float Theme Contest Starts September 6

Plans for the Theme Contest which will be conducted by the Sierra Madre Float Association from Sept. 6 through Oct. 3 were completed at the August meeting of the association held at City Hall. The 1956 Parade, under auspices of the Tournament of Roses Association, will have as its theme, "Pages From the Ages."

There is no limit to the number of suggestions one person can submit. On Sept. 6, ballot-type boxes in which suggestions can be deposited will be placed in each of four food markets in Sierra Madre—Dickson's, Roberts, Roess's, Safeway and at the Shopping Bag in the Hastings Ranch area and at the office of The News.

The winning prize will be presented to the person submitting the theme chosen as the best adaptable to a suitable design which can be constructed at a feasible cost. Prize will be a pair of the coveted Rose Bowl football tickets.

Dates for the Rose Day Sales have been set for Friday evening, Dec. 2, and Saturday, Dec. 3. On Saturday night, Dec. 3, the association will sponsor a dance at which time the winner of the theme contest will be announced.

A committee composed of Burton Cousins, Jack Dewar and Bill Jack was appointed to investigate the availability of float carriers and the cost, as compared to the cost of a carrier built by volunteers in Sierra Madre.

In the meantime, President Johnston suggests that if you wish to send a contribution to the float fund, R. C. Lewis of the Bank of Sierra Madre will, as in years past, accept the donation.

Sierra Madre first participated in the Tournament of Roses Parade in 1917 and has entered 24 times with the high record of 15 winners out of 24.

On page 12 of this week's News will be found an entry blank for the Theme Contest. Remember, you may enter as many suggestions as you wish.

Around the Square

By SEWALL CLARK.

We like rumors. We like them because they are so interesting. They make some of the best gossip in the world and we love to gossip. After all—without gossip, how could we pass the time?

We could, of course, be doing something constructive, such as helping a neighbor mend a fence, but even then there would be a certain amount of talk. So long as people have tongues in their oral cavities they are bound to use them. Yakkity-yak-yak.

The mention of mending fences reminds us of New England, where they believe that "good fences make good neighbors."

We experimented with rumors one time when we lived in a little town west of Boston—a beautiful village that had that Christmas-card-look. It also had the village square with the high, white-steeped, town-meeting hall that looked across the intersections of three quiet streets into a cemetery so beautiful that George Washington could have been happy to have slept there.

So one night we met a dancing black-haired girl with blue eyes at the Firemen's Ball at the town hall. We had lived in the township just long enough to learn a few of the undercurrents that can flow beneath the surface of that Christmas-card-look, so we thought: "Let's see how easy it is to start a rumor."

It was real easy. All we had to do was fight our way through the stag line several times to dance with her, and then, after the ball was over, we commented as to how she was a gal who would be real easy to marry—if only she'd say "Yes."

Two weeks later we heard about our secret engagement. Then, when we moved to Rye Beach, New Hampshire, we learned that we were making the move because of a secret marriage. Sounded real good.

Only trouble was, we never once saw that lovely, dancing girl after the night of the Firemen's Ball. She had moved to Bar Harbor, Maine, soon afterward—because she was married.

Flood Relief Sought by Red Cross

The Sierra Madre chapter of the American National Red Cross is issuing an appeal this week to all Sierra Madreans for their voluntary contributions to the Disaster Relief Fund Drive on behalf of the six areas stricken by floods on the East Coast.

The local campaign, headed by Col. Charles E. Morrison, disaster chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. Leo H. Meyer and Mrs. Paul Burton. It will be extended through the early part of next week.

Although no general house-to-house campaign can be expected, members of the local Red Cross are going through the chapter's files with the help of Secretary Florence Peterson to determine previous contributors who have given more than average amounts. This list will be the guide by which Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Meyer will make their house-to-house calls on a limited scale.

Reports from the local Red Cross chapter indicate that the national organization is operating 107 shelters and feeding approximately 12,000 homeless people in the stricken areas, as well as providing clothing to many. Assisting in the operation are more than 400 nurses and 150 physicians who have volunteered their services.

The Red Cross contribution alone is expected to exceed $8,000,000.

Sierra Madreans are asked to mail their contributions to the local Red Cross chapter at 41 S. Baldwin Ave., or to telephone Custer 5-0745 between 10 a.m. and 12 noon; 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Mrs. Peterson also has listed her home telephone number, Custer 5-1266, which she says may be used outside those hours.

The chapter is so eager to collect on behalf of the flood relief areas that its members will respond to calls by going out to pick up the contributions offered by telephone.

New Minister Appointed for Methodists

Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters has been appointed pastor of Sierra Madre Methodist Church by Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy of Los Angeles, and will preach his first sermon here on Sunday, Sept. 10.

The new minister was associate pastor of Trinity Church, Twelfth and Flower Sts., Los Angeles, from 1953 until his appointment here. He graduated in 1939 at Asbury Theological Seminary, Lexington, Ky., where his father is now president.

For two years during 1945-46 he served as chaplain in the

Feature Dike and Piper September Art Exhibits at Library Gallery Rate High

Visitors to the Sierra Madre Public Library through the month of September will be treated to one of the finest craft and design ever to be presented here in the opinion of the exhibits committee of the Friends of the Library.

Starting Tuesday, Sept. 6, approximately 20 paintings, most of them in oil, by Phil Dike, native Californian and assistant professor of art at Scripps College and Claremont Graduate School, will hang in the library Community Room gallery.

In the glass exhibit cases in the library proper will be shown contemporary jewelry designed and hand crafted by Pasadena Charles A. Piper, prominent designer in metal, ceramics and enamels.

City School Opens For Registration

Registering of new students to the Sierra Madre School district starts today at the City School, 141 W. Highland Ave., and will continue until Sept. 13. Superintendent of Schools Skutt has issued a reminder, however, that the office will be closed on Labor Day, Sept. 5, and California Admission Day, Sept. 9.

School will open on Tuesday, Sept. 13. Kindergarten hours have been changed this year with the morning schedule starting at 8:30 and the afternoon classes beginning at 12:10. Superintendent Skutt asks that children do not arrive early as there will be no playground supervision before 8:30.

Administrator's Report Shows Lower Tax Rate for 1955-56

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington presented to the citizens of Sierra Madre at last Monday's council meeting, a seven-page report of the city's administrative activities during the past year. Its three-fold purpose is to inform residents of the general operation of the city, of progress during the year, and plans for the future.

According to Bevington, it is a joint financial and work report, setting forth where city funds are obtained, where they are spent, and contemplated programs for improvement.

The summary established an expected tax rate of $1.615 per $100 assessed property valuation—8½ cents lower than last year. Total assessed valuation was $9,952,020, a substantial increase when compared to last year's valuation of $8,874,030.

Addressed to all Sierra Madreans, the report is entitled, "This Is Your Business." Additional excerpts will appear in next week's issue of The News.

Book Reviews Completed by 60 Children

Sixty children completed their eight-week vacation reading term last week in a "book review" program sponsored by the PTA in cooperation with the Sierra Madre public library.

On the final day, Aug. 26, the children celebrated their record-breaking attendance for the annual summer event by gathering for a party at the library where mothers and members of the library staff served refreshments during the afternoon.

Among those who were prominent in the promotion of the summer reading program were Mrs. Alice Winslow, PTA chairman of home reading and library service; Mrs. Gloria Hinshaw and Mrs. Marjorie Black, both of the library staff. The program, which was developed mostly for children from the second grade through the sixth, featured the "building" of each child's own "library"—an 8-by-10 inch placard of a library's outline to which each child might paste a paper "brick" for each book read and reviewed.

Although it required 16 books read to complete the "library" each child at the end of the 8-Fridays review sessions was allowed to take home the coveted placard, whether completed or not.

Those who completed 16 books were: Marian Black, Beth Brown, Lynda Crook, Laureen Davidson, Frazer Page Dougherty, Judi Duff, Abbe Keith, Jerrell Kraus, Patricia Mihalovic, Nancy Miller, Barbara Tate and Polly Walker.

Those who completed eight or more were: Elsie Anthony, Ronny Brennan, Kris Brown, Kathy Brown, Gayle Fretz, Gary Glaser, Bill Keith, Kathy Kindrick, Carolyn Kirk, and Marilyn Kirk.

GREAT-GRANNY WINNER OF JEANS

A great-grandmother won a pair of jeans from Hornaday's new store, for her part in the "lead the band" contest in Sierra Madre Park Friday evening. And they'll look good on her, too. Mrs. Iva Bowles, a contestant on the program presented by the Sierra Madre Community Band, had a difficult time convincing anyone she has great-grandchildren.

Elaine Lundquist and Annette Russell were also contestants in the regular feature of the contests. They received gifts from McKibben's Furniture and the E. K. Wood Lumber Company.

Although the next concert, Sept. 9, is the last scheduled for the season, an exchange program with the Pomona Community Band later in the month may give Sierra Madreans an added treat. If plans materialize, Director Roger Gray will take the local group to Pomona, and Stanton Selby will direct his musicians in Sierra Madre Park.

Joe Bush was master of ceremonies for the performance, and has promised to be on hand for the next concert a week from tomorrow night.

'Hornaday's' Opens Here Today at 9

Sierra Madre's newest department store—Hornaday's—opens this morning at 9 o'clock at 154 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. During its "Grand Opening" today, tomorrow, and Saturday at least 50 valuable door prizes will be given at a total valuation up to $500.

The store, designed to offer popular priced clothing and other merchandise to men, women, and children, also has a parking lot for more than 40 cars and gives "S & H" green stamps to all customers. It will be supervised by Eugene R. Hornaday who has owned and managed a similar store in Pasadena for many years.

Two Sierra Madre women will supplement the staff of the "Hornaday's" store at its new

Building Inspector William Lees Retires

William R. Lees, Sierra Madre's building inspector for 18 years, retires from his regular duties today with an offer from City Hall that he may continue to work on a part-time basis if he pleases.

Lees, who says that his age is past 70, will be presented with a letter of appreciation by City Council—after which time his story may be told more fully.

Services for Merritt Baker Held Today

Private funeral services are being held today at Forest Lawn for R. Merritt Baker, 55 E. Highland, who died Tuesday morning at St. Luke Hospital after an illness of five weeks.

Baker was City Administrator for Sierra Madre from October, 1951, to May, 1954. Prior to that time he was City Administrator of Auburn, Calif., and North Sacramento.

Born in 1890 in Denver, Colo., he graduated from the University of Colorado and became commercial manager of Radio Station KOA and president of the Denver Advertising Club. During the war he served with Little League Playoff at City School Saturday A.M.

The Little Coast League of Sierra Madre, in its "outside series play-off," will be programmed on the baseball diamond at City School, 141 W. Highland Ave., Saturday morning. Warm-ups will begin at 8:30 o'clock, with the big-decision game scheduled to start 30 minutes later.

According to many local baseball fans, the only trouble with the Little Coast League this summer has been the fact that the "Los Angeles" team, coached by Carlton "Tiny" Scalzo, has won 14 out of 15 games. In this section of Sierra Madre's recreation program, led by Philip Mitchell, city recreation director, there have been those who have felt that the best of the "North" teams should be allowed to play the "South" teams' choicest selections.

The youngsters' teams listed as "North" are "San Francisco," "Oakland," and "Sacramento." Those from the "South" are from the teams known as "Los Angeles," "Hollywood," and "San Diego."

So it is that five players from each team will be chosen to comprise "North" and "South" teams of 15 players each. The coach of the "South" will be "Tiny" Scalzo; coach for the "North" will be Ed Woodrich. And rumor has it that coaches from all individual teams are expected to assist in the big play-off which might, locally, be as important as the World Series.

Council Refuses Girls Home License

Rejection Based on Lack Of Group's Organization

The City Council last Monday night denied the application of Bethany Home for Girls, Inc., to use the old children's home at 72 W. Alegria as a haven for teen-age girls unable for various reasons to live at home. The non-profit corporation five weeks ago applied for the necessary business license to operate the home here, and almost immediately the request developed into a storm center of protest and controversy.

Arthur Embree Retires After Long Service

Arthur H. Embree, who is the assistant postmaster for Sierra Madre's branch of the United States Post Office until his official retirement Sept. 30, was honored Tuesday evening at a supper party in City Park sponsored by all local post office employees, including Postmaster Charles E. Louk and Frank Huber, secretary of the California chapter of the national association of supervisors in the United States Post Office System.

After Huber's speech, related to the 30 years of faithful service performed by Embree and also describing the benefits of the national association, the townsfolk and families and the men and women who had worked as employees with Assistant Postmaster Embree gathered 'round — and from there on the basket-supper celebration on the lawn beneath the trees near the Park House became a real folksy meeting in which all kinds of speakers took the stand.

Every one of them said something fine and good about Art Embree, because they had known him for so many years and had tested his character, sometimes without knowing it. There was Herbie Munson, for instance, a postal carrier on route No. 2, who, without being a rehearsed speech-maker, told of the appreciation the many carriers had felt for Art Embree throughout the years, whether he had patted them on the back for their services beyond the call of duty or had "bawled them out" for their mistakes.

All those in the audience agreed with that idea, especially Mrs. May Shearer who had helped so much to arrange the party, and Don Miller who had volunteered his talents as an entertainer.

The "village cop" was there, too. His name was, and still is, Hy Embree—a brother of Art's who has been on the local

Mrs. Catherine Higgins, director of the Plaza Community Center which sponsored the original Alegria home for children, told the Council there was no basis for anxiety regarding the new association's financial stability. In every way, she said, the home would be an asset to Sierra Madre.

In a typed report to the Council, City Administrator Bevington pointed out that State approval had been sought by the Bethany group for the past year, but still was not given because of insufficient information. He reported the articles of incorporation had been amended in response to a State request. Objectives now were "to establish and maintain a Christian home for neglected and dependent girls from the ages of 14 to 20."

Previously the group affirmed its purpose to be "establishing and maintaining a home for girls seeking employment."

Protests against the home were expressed from the audience by J. A. Dewar, representing a group of citizens in southeastern Sierra Madre. Foster Buckner, attorney, who also spoke in protest at the last Council meeting, drew Council's

FOR INFORMATION

August 27, 1955
Editor Sierra Madre News:

The citizens of Sierra Madre should indeed be grateful to you for the splendid work you are doing in bringing to them the true picture of Sierra Madre schools, and what should be done to restore them to their former high standing. After your paper came out last Thursday, Aug. 25, in which you ran the story of The Civic Affairs Association and its recommendation to the Board of Education that it resubmit its tax increase proposal to the voters of Sierra Madre, which the Board voted to authorize next Jan. 31, I had among others, a caller at my office who expressed great surprise.

The visitor could not understand why I, a real estate broker, should be willing to actively engage in any movement designed to raise taxes. I should like to write the gist of my reply to this comment, feeling that many others would be interested in hearing it.

To be sure, as a real estate broker, I have brought many new families to Sierra Madre. I dislike high taxes. I dislike the necessity of Sierra Madre's needing to raise taxes one cent above their present level. But there are things that I dislike infinitely more than having to pay a few more dollars in taxes, and the one thing in particular that I refer to is the present substandard character of Sierra Madre's public schools, for which I must apologize to prospective new residents.

I would a hundred times over rather say to the prospective Sierra Madre resident that our public schools are second to none, and our taxes are no higher than in similar cities about us, than to say or have to admit that our schools are woefully below the standards maintained in the schools of neighboring cities, even though our taxes are a few dollars lower here on similar homes elsewhere. This we should not lose sight of: that education—including the hiring of teachers, purchase of desks, chairs and books—cannot reasonably be purchased any cheaper in Sierra Madre than anywhere else. Yet for the past 10 years (the only figures I have personally at hand) the per pupil cost of public education in Sierra Madre has been substantially below the county average, and farther still below the average of our neighboring cities in San Gabriel Valley.

Rising schools costs, keeping pace with rising costs in every other field of enterprise and endeavor, and sharply rising school enrollment, have at last forced the local Board of Education to take drastic steps to maintain basic education in our public schools, this at the expense of a music instructor and department, a bus for transportation, the school cafeteria, badly needed building repairs and deserved raises in teachers' pay.

These drastic cuts have been necessary because the citizens of Sierra Madre failed to approve the recent school tax increase proposal.

The present substandard condition of our public schools is already causing home buyers to choose neighboring cities in preference to Sierra Madre. The voters here must be given a chance to reconsider this proposal.

And what if it is not approved on next Jan. 31? Simply this: Sierra Madre will lose, almost beyond recall, its former proud and high standing as a class A residential city. May God forbid that this could ever happen!

I have firm faith that the voters of Sierra Madre, properly informed, will rally to the support of their public schools in sufficient numbers to save them.

JOHN H. CURTIS, Chairman,
Civic Affairs Association.

Editor, Sierra Madre News

Aug. 30, 1955.

Dear Sirs:

I wish to register my impressions following the hearing before the City Council in regard to the business permit for the Bethany Home for Girls.

I wish to congratulate the Council for what I consider to be their genuine interest in the integrity of all institutions operating in our city. I especially feel that Mayor James conducted affairs in a most orderly and impartial manner. Basically, I feel that there was one issue that decided the Council. This was that the girls who organized the structure of the home had not proceeded far enough during the time since their incorporation to warrant the Council to grant a license. I had hoped that the Council might see fit to keep the door open on a temporary basis to give the organization time to prove itself. However, this was not seen as feasible.

There is one factor in this whole problem that bothers me greatly. I have a feeling, and this was borne out in various statements both in and out of the Council chambers, that the real issue to many was not the competency of the staff nor the adequacy of the facilities, but the plain fact that this was a "home," and that Sierra Madre is no place for any home of this type.

I do hope that the City Council will realize that the "interests" of the people are not always the "best interests" of the people. I personally feel that this was tragically shown in the recent school tax question. I am proud of Sierra Madre and its homes, but I shudder to think of the eventual condition of a city that feels there is no spot of ground within its limits that could be considered suitable for some humanitarian project.

I was, and am convinced that there is nothing about the location of the proposed home that should mitigate against its usage for such a project. I urge both Council and populace to continue to consider carefully the qualifications of proposed institutions but not to close fast both heart and mind to the need of our city to assume a proper responsibility to those whose lives might be destined to tragedy and ruin without our help.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT N. SCHAPER,
Pastor, Bethany Church.

Letters to the Editor

Lee Shippey asks

What Do You Think?

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, who asks, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of THE NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

The terrible floods in the East have brought ringing declarations from the President and a lot of Congressmen that something must be done about flood control. That's fine, but the long-suffering and much-forgiving public might be mean enough to point out that if Army Engineer recommendations had been followed, flood control work would have been done BEFORE there was disaster. I don't know about the East; but I know that before the floods of 1928—I think that was the year—the Army Engineers had made plans for flood control which would have averted the Lytle Creek-Santa Ana River disaster which took a number of lives and did $60,000,000 damage, but the Congressmen said no, no, we must save the taxpayers' money. After that flood—the same time First Water camp and Roberts camp were washed out here, as I recall it—the Army Engineers were authorized to spend $8,000,000 on control work in Lytle Creek which has prevented any serious damage there since. And I recall that our own Tom Henderson as well as Harry Grace, Bill Mendenhall, Harold Strange and others in our Forestry Service pointed out fire and flood dangers here 15 years ago, but nothing was done until AFTER our fire and flood of 18 months ago.

Incidentally, John Page of Sierra Madre has resigned from our Forest Service because he couldn't support his family on the Forest Service salary. After nine years of service in work he loved and had learned to do well, he felt he had to give it up for his family's sake. Jack's salary was less than one-sixth that of a Congressman. I should think every Congressman who voted himself a salary boost of 50 per cent not long ago would blush every time he met one of the really underpaid Federal workers, who got only a very small salary boost and then had some of his fringe benefits cut off, so that actually most California Forest Service men are worse off than they were before. You have to know a lot to be a Forest Ranger, and have to keep learning a lot. Nowadays the only good jobs for which one doesn't have to have education and special training are those to which persons are elected. They don't have to have anything except ability to get votes, no matter how. What we need is politicians with enough vision to avert disasters instead of giving us a lot of sympathy after they occur.

How doth the busy little typographical error pop up to spoil a joke, now and then? Last week I tried to tell the historic one about Abbott Kinney, who built a handsome home in Sierra Madre Villa and named it Kinney-loa, which caused N. C. Carter to point out that his home was a few feet higher, and might be called Carter-hia. But it got in the paper Carter-his. That ought to teach me to clean my typewriter type so letters won't get blurred up.

Pasadena Pops Concerts Feature Dave Rose Music

Pasadena Pops again brings to Pasadena a unique experience. On Sept. 9, 16, 23 and 30, Santa Anita Turf Club in Arcadia will be the star-lit showcase for concerts of David Rose's orchestra and a series of guest artists. Those attending again will find the best in Pops music, the enjoyment of light wines and beverages served at the table seats, and the gay informal atmosphere contributing to an evening of pleasure.

A new answer to the pre-concert supper comes this week from Mrs. Robert Strub, catering chairman of the Pops committee of the sponsoring Junior League of Pasadena.

Buffet suppers at popular prices will be available from 6:30 to 10:30 and will be taken to the tables. The cocktail bar will be open from 6:30 to concert time and as usual, beer and wine will be served throughout the evening.

The menu will include hot beef, ham and corned beef sandwiches served with potato salad or cole slaw; a cold, combination seafood plate with avocado and tomatoes; pastries, milk and coffee.

Howard Keel, MGM singing star, currently being seen in "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," will guest star at the first concert, Sept. 9. The second concert, Sept. 16, will feature Raphael Mendez and his trumpet, as well as his two sons, Ralph and Robert, who hold prominent places on the musical stage in their own right as trumpeters.

For information and reservations, call SYcamore 6-8850 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Tickets may be bought either for the season or single concerts. There will be a limited number of student tickets at a reduced price.

High Office Given to Jewish Center Member

William Glesby of Arcadia, who is a board member of the Foothill Jewish Community Center here at 212 N. Lima St., has been elected to serve on the board of directors of the Jewish Community Council of Los Angeles. He is the first and only resident of the San Gabriel Valley to be elected to this high office.

Mr. Glesby is an active member of the Jewish Temple in Sierra Madre, the largest Jewish congregation in the San Gabriel Valley, and his wife is president of the sisterhood. Their two sons, Robert and Jerry—as well as their daughters-in-law, Elaine and Florence—also are very active in the Temple here.

'Sabrina Fair' Opens Tonight At Playhouse

The opening of "Sabrina Fair" at Pasadena Playhouse tonight brings an outstanding group of professional actors to Southern California in one of Broadway's brightest comedies.

Heading the cast are Frances Starr and Philip Tonge, supported by Toni Gerry as "Sabrina" and Louise Lorimer.

Miss Starr is considered one of the greatest Broadway actresses of the century. She was discovered by the late David Belasco while playing in "The Rose of the Rancho." He brought her overnight to stardom and national fame as the star of "The Easiest Way."

Toni Gerry, in the title role, is the girl who made a tremendous hit with Playhouse audiences last year when she alternated in the starring role of "Gigi." She is one of Hollywood's rapidly rising movie and TV players, having featured roles in "A Bullet for Joey" and "Day of Triumph."

Philip Tonge, who plays opposite Miss Starr, also is a distinguished stage, screen and TV performer, as is Miss Lorimer.

July Employment Highest Recorded

The highest July employment on record despite a temporary rise in unemployment was reported today in a joint statement released by the Department of Employment and the Department of Industrial Relations.

H. W. Stewart, Director of the Department of Employment, announced that the unemployed total increased to 172,000 in July from 166,000 in June. He attributed the rise to late crops which affected both agriculture and canning, the entrance of recent graduates into the labor market, and the usual vacation-time layoff of school employees.

Ernest B. Webb, Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, reported that civilian employment in the state totaled 5,164,000, the highest figure for July in history. The July figure was 12,000 below the June total, reflecting the late season in agriculture and end-of-term layoffs in schools.

Aside from agriculture and education, all industries reported increased employment in July.

Mr. Stewart stated that the June-July increase of 6,000 unemployed this year compares with a drop of 5,000 in 1954 when harvesting followed the usual seasonal pattern. Total unemployment this July, however, is 64,000, or 27 per cent below a year ago. In July, 1955, unemployment was 3.2 per cent of the labor force compared with 4.5 per cent a year ago.

Mr. Webb pointed out that employment was higher than ever before in the construction, finance and service industries.

Girl Scouts

The Mariner Girl Scouts of the Sea Nymph are real sailors now having just returned from a three-day cruise aboard the "Resolute," a 43-foot ketch.

Under the direction of Capt. Ed Fabian the girls learned to chart their course, sail by compass, hoist and lower the mizzen, mainsail and jib sail, handle the jib sheet and properly fasten the lines by using a half hitch.

The three days were spent in sailing the Catalina Channel. The anchor was dropped around noon-time in one of the coves at Catalina Island, for a pre-luncheon swim, and lifted following the daily "siesta." Swimming off the ship in the crystal clear water was a grand experience for the girls.

Following an afternoon cruise the ship was anchored in Fourth of July Cove for more swimming, dinner and sleeping in sleeping bags, on top deck under the bright stars.

One of the highlights of the cruise came when the girls were guests at Camp Cherry Valley Boy Scouts Campfire and Order of the Arrow Ceremony. The boys returned the Mariners to their ship in Indian War Canoes at midnight a very unexpected and exciting addition to their trip.

The crew on board the "Resolute" included Captain Fabian, Skipper "Mama Pete," and crew, Muriel Peterson, Sally Lauder, Pat Chemotte, Dee Dee Dam-meyer, Lynn Voges, Kathy Sou-ter, Rita Bonney, Jo Podliska, Sue Maloney, Tod Draeger, Karen Morris, Pat Nixon, Helen Jean Hippensteel, Doris Merrick and Judy Haymaker.

Everyone had a wonderful time learning the life of a sailor and living in very small quarters on the ship. The rummage sale the Mariners held last December was the means of financing the trip and the girls are already planning for their next project and sailing cruise.

With BOB BROGGER
Well, I hate to say this, because a lot of you fans will think it's stupid, but Archie Moore is going to "pound" out a win over that heavyweight chump—Rocky Marciano.

Now, I know, Moore is the same age as Jack Benny (39), but I think there's still one more good fight left in the ol' man's bones. Moore is a great boxer—a far more superior boxer than Marciano. "The Rock" can absorb punishment like a brick can absorb water, and he can punch very hard, but as the great Jack Dempsey and Moore himself have said, Marciano has a lot of open spots that the other boxers have failed to notice. If you read the article written by Jack Dempsey in one of the national magazines, you would've found out how Rocky rates among the former heavyweights. Practically every champion, starting with John L. Sullivan, would've knocked out Marciano. When he came to himself, the editor of the magazine took over and said that Jack would knock him out. Heck, Dempsey would whip three Marcianos in the same ring. But this is all beside the point. We're worrying about this coming fight. Despite his age, Moore is going to give Marciano his toughest fight, and I'm going to say he'll beat Marciano by a TKO.

Sluggish Ted Kluszewski seems a good bet to join the small group of National Leaguers who have hit more than 50 homers in one season. He had 41 under his belt after

Band to Appear At County Fair

The Sierra Madre Community Band, under the direction of Roger Gray, has accepted the invitation of the Los Angeles County Fair opening Sept. 16-Oct. 2, to perform on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m., according to Fred Graff, director of bands and parades for the exposition. Graff said he expects a total of 75 bands from various schools and organizations throughout the state, as well as a number of dance studios and other special attractions.

Special facilities have been made available for the bands and other performers to appear in the amphitheater in addition to their presence about the fairgrounds.

Last fall more than 1,110,000 visitors passed through the turnstiles in Pomona. This year at least 1,125,000 fairgoers are expected. While visiting the fair, members of the musical organizations will have an excellent opportunity to enjoy the festivities and view the anticipated 41,000 individual exhibits.

Aug. 14. Only three National League hitters ever hit the half century mark in a season. Hack Wilson did the stunt with 56, Johnny Mize with 51 and the boy from Alhambra, Ralph Kiner, did it twice, with 54 and 51.

It's going to be a real exciting football season. The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame are going to be playing SC in the Coliseum this year. Notre Dame leads in this cross-country rivalry with 17 games won, 7 lost and 1 tie. Blimy!

Roger Comstock at Newfoundland Base

He was then assigned to March Air Force Base, Calif., as a radio repairman. His duty at Harmon is with the 6605th Operation Squadron as radio repairman.

Mrs. Gladys M. Graves and Son, Chris, Home From 11-Country European Tour

Mrs. Gladys M. Graves, 660 W. Montecito Ave., and her son, Chris, have returned from their 11-country European tour.

"We flew over," says Mrs. Graves, "but in Europe we wanted to know what the man on the street talked and thought about, so we traveled independent of any tours, seeing the historical sights and the usual tourist attractions. The most interesting experience was traveling on the international trains. Here we met and talked with travelers from every country in the world."

Language proved to be a problem but the Sierra Madreans found most Europeans speak either some German or a bit of English and with the help of fellow passengers, who acted as interpreters, they were able to visit with everyone in their crowded compartments.

Everywhere the people wanted to know if it was really sunny in California and stated they would rather live in America than in Europe. In Austria the people must wait 18 years before they are eligible for American immigration.

Mrs. Graves said, "The farther east we traveled the poorer we found the average man to be. A policeman's average wage in Austria is $60 per month, our money. Men in Vienna who always wear short leather pants, do not do so for their style, but for economic reasons; with occasional patching they wear nearly a lifetime."

While Chris was having a standard haircut in Amsterdam for 20 cents, American money, a young girl, with braids, came in the barber shop and wanted her hair cut short. The barber selected the proper size wooden bowl from a stack of various ones, on a shelf, and placed it on her head. He drew a line around it with chalk and then snipped the braids off, presto!

Mrs. Graves stated that unemployment in Italy is a major problem. They found Capri to be as romantic as our song writers have pictured it, but they did not look forward to their meals since there was an obvious lack of refrigeration in the butcher shops and restaurants. Window screens seemed to be unknown and there was a bumper crop of flies buzzing everywhere in this island paradise.

Their biggest thrill was flying home, via the Arctic route, and seeing the large wonderfully blue icebergs below.

DEWEY MULHOLLANDS RETURN FROM BRAZIL

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mulholland are returning to Sierra Madre to live after an absence of five years in Brazil serving as missionaries under the Conservative Baptist Missionary Board.

While in New York City, a cousin and his wife, Prof. and Mrs. Raymond Rodgers, took her sightseeing and to various interesting restaurants. They continued their visit at the Rodgers' summer home in Westport, Conn.

During Mrs. Burgess' stay in New Town, Pa., with Mr. and Mrs. William Hubbert, she made a side trip to Washington, D.C., where she toured the Capitol.

While in Memphis, Tenn., she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wray and Mr. and Mrs. C. Nichols were her hosts in Albuquerque, N.M.

GARDEN NOTES

PORTABLE PLANTS

The term portable is applied to a great variety of things in today's way of living—and surprisingly enough it can be applied also to certain plants.

Portable plants, says the California Association of Nurserymen, are actually container-grown subjects that can be moved about from patio, to entrance-way, along a wall or a driveway—wherever conditions and your fancy dictate.

And the charm of portable plants is that there are a great number of containers to select from and plants to grow in them. Use tubs and boxes of redwood and other woods, pots of clay, large and small, for your portable plants. Most important, whatever container you use, be sure it drains very freely.

As for the plants you wish to make portable their selection will depend on the area where you plan to use them. For entrance-ways use a dramatic shrub—a bamboo, Bugho pine or boxwood. Along driveways, tubs of dwarf rhododendrons, fuchsias, azaleas or hydrangeas offer a colorful welcome. Against a patio wall espalier a tree—a dwarf southern magnolia or loquat.

For smaller pots arranged in groups on a terrace, in a corner that needs living up, try some of the bulbs. Tuberous begonias, cyclamen, some tulips, daffodils are all natural for the portable plant role. And there are annuals and perennials that will do well in pots and small boxes—lobelia, dwarf petunias, cineraria among the former, and geraniums, some chrysanthemums, heliotrope, campanulas in the perennial class.

For further ideas on portable plant culture check with your nurseryman. In addition to supplying you with the containers and plants he'll be able to advise on the proper planting mixtures and culture requirements for portable plants.

BIRDS OF PARADISE AND OTHER EXOTIC TROPICALS

For a breath of nether regions—far-away jungles, purple plains, verdant hills—in your California garden, there are a number of exotic tropicals that will lend such an atmosphere.

Bird of Paradise is just such a tropical. Strelitzia reginae and Strelitzia reginae with their bird-like flowers are the varieties the California Association of Nurserymen recommend for such a garden planting. The nicotia, called the Giant Bird of Paradise, is a perennial plant reaching 30 feet and features white and blue flowers spaced intermittently among the gray-green leaves of the many-stalked plant. Reginae is trunkless and grows to five feet. It features spectacular and long-lasting flowers of orange, blue and white which bloom throughout the year, perhaps the best in the cool season.

Give the Strelitzias full sun in coastal areas, light shade inland, a well-fertilized rich soil and occasional applications of acid-base fertilizer or iron sulfate. Shell Flower or Porcelain Ginger is the enticing name of another lovely tropical also known as the Alpinia speciosa. A tropical herb it grows to eight feet and can be distinguished by its reddish leaf sheaths which turn maroon at maturity. Lots of water, little

HJORDIS PARKER TO MAKE ANOTHER TV 'SPOT' MONDAY

Hjordis Kittel Parker, who began her first film-lecture series in 1948 based on pictures of Norway taken by a small camera purchased at Hartman's Pharmacy, will make her second appearance on Jack Douglas' TV program, "Golden Voyage," Monday on channel 13 beginning at 7 p.m. A former Sierra Madreen, she now resides at 193 Oak Meadow Road in Arcadia with her husband, Donald C. Parker, and their two children, Don and Elise.

Mrs. Parker, who has traveled many parts of the world because of her film lectures, has appeared before capacity crowds in some of the most prominent auditoriums within the United States and Canada. As the first guest featured on Douglas' "Golden Voyage" program, Feb. 21, she has been invited to make a return engagement to the high Hooper-rated program at a time when another "Hooper" may be taken.

Her film program, along with personal appearance, on the February program was entitled "Norway." Her TV presentation on the "Golden Voyage" show next Monday will be "Sweden."

Edmond D. Boles, Fresno public relations executive says: "The value of public relations is usually most obvious when not present."

Around the Square

ried to somebody else. Rumors are wonderful.

So now you know why it is that a newspaper man asks so many questions. He doesn't necessarily care about your personal life; he just wants to separate the facts from the rumor. Just the facts, m'am. All he wants to know is: "Who? What? Where? When? Why? How?"

And, in this day of almost constant "funds-raising," another question often is: "How much?" (You ain't kiddin' Bubl)

We like "publicity chairmen" not only because they are of assistance to an editor but also because they can do so much for their individual organizations if only they will stop worrying about the Shakespearean tongue and give us the somewhatwherehenwhyhowand howmuch! (Typewritten, double-spaced—please.)

All kidding to one side, we are glad to get your news in any way, in any form. If you go to the beach or New York City, or around the world—or if you merely step outside your patio door to wave at a neighbor—we want to know about it. But we also would like you to know why typewriters were born. The most beautiful handwriting in the world can make an "e" look like an "i" or an "a" like an "o" or an "nu" like an "mm" or "mr."

That's why, when some people bring us their announcements written on the back of an old postage stamp in hair-fine longhand we wonder why they don't try to compete with the man who once wrote the "Lord's Prayer" on the head of a pin.

Okay, Watson—where's the magnifying glass?

Speaking of "hair-fine long-hand," we had a hair-fine animal jump into our lap the other night while driving away from the home of Fritz and Amy Adam at 93 Canon Ave. After we got the car and the editorial "ourselves" back into control we wheeled back to the Adam's to ask "What goes?"

Fritz is one of the most experienced amateur radio operators in the USA and has given us more than one feature story and incidental material, some of which has been pretty complicated at times, but on that particular evening his answer was very simple. Seems that Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Best, their neighbors on the north, have all kinds of cats that love to bum rides. Stowaways in automobiles. They even like to ride in our old 1938 Buick, which Columnist Matt Weinstock once described in affectionate terms (of which we are so proud). All of which makes the situation pretty dangerous any time a cat will go for a cab like that.

Maybe those folks on Canon Ave. had better put up a sign: "Beware the cat!"

Pirate and Wheel Days Rate High on Summer Program

One hundred twenty pirates assembled in Sierra Madre Park on Aug. 5, drawing the largest number of elementary age children for the summer park activities, with Wheel Day next in line, attracting 100 students.

During the six-week craft program in the park, largest week's attendance was 392, with weekly average 341, according to figures released by Recreation Director Philip Mitchell. About 90 children per day attended the regular craft programs in the park, directed by Joyceene Gallaher.

For the two weeks of Day Camp, held in Sierra Madre Villa Park, 39 primary grade children met the first week, and 36 older boys and girls, the second. Campers met the bus at 6:30 a.m. for a half-day program outside of the city.

All activities were co-sponsored by city and school. A fee is charged for Day Camp to cover swimming, breakfast and transportation costs, in order to provide a broad camp experience for local children. Mothers volunteer to help with the cooking.

The summer fun concluded Wednesday of last week with a watermelon feed in the park.

Three-fourths of the world is flat—no wonder we all feel so much at home.

Mariners Club Holds Western Party

The Mariners Club of Bethany Church, Dick and Anna Marie Browning, skippers, will have its September party tonight in Fellowship Hall at 6:45 o'clock.

The club, composed of couples with a combined age of 65 or more, meets weekly as a Sunday School class and has a monthly social gathering. This month the theme of the party has been announced as a "western" with jeans and calico in the order of dress with menu and program in similar vein.

Attendance for these monthly sessions has been around 40 couples and another successful meeting is anticipated for tonight.

Churches

Plans for Enlargement of Bethany Sunday School Set

Plans have been announced by Bethany Church Sunday School for enlargement. The house at 29 W. Montecito, purchased by the church some time ago, will now be used for Sunday School purposes. The high school department, both Sunday School and Christian Endeavor, will begin meeting there shortly, as will some other adult Sunday School classes.

This change will allow the enlargement of the junior high department. To correspond with the Pasadena schools this department has been expanded to include seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Additional class room and assembly space will be provided in the present Sunday School building.

Dr. Schaper, pastor, has reported that a greater youth program than any ever sponsored by the church is anticipated for the fall and winter months.

Pastor Continues Biographic Series

Dr. Schaper has announced that he will continue the series of messages on "The Kings of Israel" at the Sunday night services of Bethany Church. These dramatic messages, centering around the lives of the significant kings of the Old Testament, have proved both interesting and helpful.

A special Labor Day message will be given next Sunday morning. Dr. Schaper will preach on the subject, "Raising Your Wages." Mrs. Schaper will be heard in a special morning solo.

Break Ground For New Boy Scout Building

Groundbreaking recently has been accomplished for the new Headquarters Building of the San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Rosemead Blvd. and Greenhill Road in East Pasadena. The symbolic first spadeful of earth was turned by Mrs. Harold Pauley who gave the two-acre site along with Edwin Pauley and Fritz Burns as a memorial to her late husband, a lifelong friend of Scouting.

Among the sponsors in the group of honored guests was Mrs. M. R. de Wright of Sierra Madre.

The new Headquarters Building, scheduled for completion early next year, will house the professional and clerical staffs who work for the approximately 17,000 Scouts, Cubs and Explorers in the San Gabriel Valley Council, along with the 6000 men and women who serve as volunteers.

It also is for the expected future needs of a potential of 25,000 boys and about 11,000 adult volunteers in view by 1960.

The building comprises about 13,000 square feet of floor space divided among executive offices, special service areas, and storage space. Facilities of the one-story structure will include a library, file room, conference room, a trading post, and cafeteria with adjoining kitchen.

Besides Sierra Madre, the Headquarters Building will serve 28 other communities composing the San Gabriel Valley Council, from Glendora in the east to La Canada in the west and southward to Walnut and Monterey Park.

Bethany Welcomes Missionary Family

Bethany Church has been carefully preparing for the return to Sierra Madre of one of its missionary families. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mulholland and their four children are expected to arrive today, and they will be surprised to find a completely furnished home including a well-stocked pantry awaiting them.

The Mulhollands were active in the work of Bethany Church when Mr. Mulholland was a student at Fuller Theological Seminary. He is returning to take a few courses during the coming term while home on furlough from missionary service in Brazil.

The Mulhollands will be living at 41 W. Highland. They have been receiving support along with six other missionary endeavors in the Bethany Church foreign missions program.

Writers' Roundup to End With TV Session

"Writing for the Mass Market" will be the topic to be used by Miss Helen Lamb Madden when she speaks tonight during the Rose Bowl Writers' Roundup now being held at Pasadena City College. Tonight will be the last session in the four-day course.

Miss Madden is well qualified to speak of television writing, for she is assistant story editor with the program department of the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

All writers who aspire to work in the field of television are invited to attend Miss Madden's lecture tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The 9:30 a.m. program today features "Bud" Ellingwood Kay, who has been of assistance to TV writers as head of the script department at CBS.

Business People Eligible for School

Pasadena's evening school will fill more Distributive Education class rooms this fall than at any time in its history. Seventy-one courses of professional training will be offered free to the business people of the district, commencing the second week of September.

The program, under the supervision of J. B. Rathmell, district coordinator, will offer advertising, administration, law, salesmanship, speech, public relations, psychology, insurance, real estate, investments, office training, retail operations, promotion, taxes, writing, leadership and kindred subjects.

Most of the courses are semester length, meeting once a week, at Pasadena City College, 1570 East Colorado, Pasadena. Material used is at adult level and designed for those already in business.

Classes start the week of September 12, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Schedules, outlines and individual room numbers may be had by phoning Mr. Rathmell or Extended Day at SYcamore 3-5111.

Finding fault is no way to make a fortune, unless the fault is found in your business.

YOUR HEALTH

The Hairy Tarantula
By ROY O. GILBERT, M.D.
Los Angeles County
Health Officer

The presence of an unusually large number of tarantula spiders was recently reported in the San Fernando District of Los Angeles County. Already many have been killed, because the superstitions surrounding the tarantula make it as feared as the poisonous black widow. Nonetheless, although the tarantula may look formidable to many alarmed individuals, experts from the Entomology Department of the Los Angeles County Museum declare that the bite of a tarantula is no more dangerous than a bee sting and is considerably less painful. Nor are they, in expert opinion, any more abundant than usual.

The retiring, shy and solitary tarantula is sadly maligned. Century-old tales that its bite causes death or madness still color the thoughts and actions of many people. Like all spiders, with the exception of the black widow, it is actually good to have around since it destroys many harmful insects. As a matter of fact, tarantulas were often the only pets of Southwest Indian boys in days gone by.

Although not as common as other members of the spider family, tarantulas always have inhabited Los Angeles County. Nocturnal in habit, they wander around in the evening or after dark although a few may be seen during the daylight hours.

From the month of August through October tarantulas always seem more plentiful, for this is the time that most of them leave their burrows and start out over the countryside looking for a mate. Although both male and female take to the open, they are habitually solitary and are most generally seen alone. Actually there aren't any more tarantulas around than usual, but as people move out to areas formerly sparsely settled, more of them are observed. In short, people are moving out to where the tarantulas always were.

Because of its size, if nothing else, a tarantula is easy to recognize. Its body, generally black or dark gray and covered with fine hairs that give it a soft velvety look, is about three-quarters of an inch in diameter and two and a half inches long. Its legs give it a span of four and a half to five inches or more. Contrary to popular belief, it cannot jump. Although one species of the tarantula native to Central America, has hind legs that are long and springy like those of a grasshopper and can jump like one, the tarantula in Los Angeles County just isn't equipped for such gymnastics. Tarantulas are surprisingly long-lived. They generally live eight to 15 years. Some in captivity have lived as long as 25, but most of them are slaughtered long before this age is reached. Its chief enemies are the tarantula wasp and man.

The tarantula is normally very pacific and rarely bites a human being. When it does, the bad effects are chiefly psychological. The individual is generally more frightened than hurt. According to one scientific experimenter, the pain caused by the bite of a tarantula was something like the prick of a pin and lasted but 15 or 20 minutes. No swelling or inflammation occurred.

However, although there are no ill effects from the bite under normal conditions, should the individual be allergic to the tarantula poison, or in a weakened state due to illness, it may cause serious trouble, it may the venom from a fee sting. Such reactions, however, are not common.

Surely there is room in the world for both tarantulas and people, to take a thought from the famous 18th century novel, Tristram Shandy. Harmless and non-belligerent as these spiders are, it seems unnecessarily cruel to kill them. After all, who is invading whose territory?

Plans for the first structure of the proposed new Catholic Boys High School have been submitted to the Pasadena City Building Department by the Catholic Archbishop of Los Angeles. The school is to be located on the southwest corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda.

According to plan, there will be approximately 11,160 square feet in the building. There will be a setback of 50 feet on Sierra Madre Blvd. and 20 feet on Michillinda.

Four of the 10 classrooms will be on the first floor with the library, lobby and office space; five on the second floor with the laboratory and drafting room, and one on the ground floor with the temporary locker space, utility and storage, the kitchen and cafeteria.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

No Greater Love Hath Any Creature Than That of a Dog for His Master!

And "no greater love hath any man than that he shall lay down his life for a friend" . . . or his country. In this last Great War, as in all other wars, thousands of brave and worthy men have laid down their lives on the altar of Freedom, and for Religious Liberty . . . that we may go on living in a land where there is still Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Press and last, but by no means least, Freedom of Religion.

Let us then not forget this boon. Let us attend the Church of our choice regularly, for it stands as a symbol of that freedom . . . that way of life, for which our forefathers founded this great nation, and for which all the brave men, living and dead, have struggled so valiantly to maintain.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Tennis Club Holds Record Tournament

Twenty-eight players were engaged in the tennis tournament on the new City Park courts last Sunday in the local competitions sponsored by the Sierra Madre Tennis Club in an open tourney postponed from the Sunday of the week preceding.

Because entrants totaled the largest number of the season the tournament was divided into two sections. In one of them the games were so closely contested that play-offs were necessary to determine the finalists.

When the "extra competitions" were stopped by fading daylight, the finals for that section were postponed until next Sunday beginning at 9 in the morning.

Those in the finals' teams who have yet to decide their contests are the doubles of William Alvarez and Ricky Schmidt versus Hal Borgardus and Nan Owen.

Tennis Club members, who say that the new courts at City Park are very satisfactory, have established a bulletin board there which also displays the trophies to be presented to the tournament winners.

Membership to the club, which has described its "ladder system" competitions on the bulletin board, is still open to other tennis enthusiasts and players who may gain further information by telephoning the club secretary, Peter Cowell, at CUster 5-2754.

attention to Article 6 of Ordinance 391 which, he maintained, prohibited this home in an R-1 zone.

PARKING LOT REPORT

Another forward step in the slow legal proceedings necessary for acquisition of three parking lots by the city was made at the City Council meeting last Monday. Laurence J. Thompson, who mapped the downtown lighting district several years ago, was authorized to check the parking district map allocating the costs to the city's merchants.

Total costs of $46,000 plus legal, engineering and improvement expenses will be assessed to the downtown business establishments in proportion to their foot frontage and size.

Mayor James said, "Let's expedite this matter as much as possible, so that the merchants can have their parking lots in operation before Christmas."

The crowded agenda of Monday's meeting included also the final reading of the zoning ordinance, and City Attorney Guy Cornyn explained that it will become effective in 30 days.

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington reported optimistic indications that the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors would release gasoline tax funds for street paving on Ramona, Manzanita, Michillinda, Fairview and Carter.

In response to a letter from the Pasadena animal shelter, Cornyn was requested to prepare an ordinance increasing the pound fees from $1 to $2.50, plus boarding fees of 50 cents per day after 24 hours.

Council also: Budgeted a sum not to exceed $500 for the local float association's use "only if needed in the construction of an adequate float" for the Pasadena Tournament of Roses;

Accepted in final form the retirement plan contract for city employees;

Authorized final payment of $6,000 on the construction contract for the library;

Approved a budget of expenses for the present fiscal year of $157,788.14.

Women's Shop Celebrates Anniversary

The "Seventh Anniversary Sale" at Fashion Future, the women's dress shop at 85 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., has been highlighting the current shopping scene in Sierra Madre for feminine buyers who seek popular priced clothing of all kinds acceptable to California living or to women's styles anywhere in the world.

The sale, scheduled to end at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, is a true bargain affair sponsored by the dress shop's owners, Mrs. Betty K. Johnson and Mrs. Oleta de Campo, who are taking pride in the fact that no "special" merchandise is being brought into the store to fill out the reduced-price period. Both Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. de Campo, assisted by Mrs. Florence Wilson, say that the many customers who have visited their shop previous to the bargain event will discover only the genuine article on sale: "Dresses from $17.95 to $25 marked down to as low as $9."

According to Mrs. Johnson, who bought the Frances Scott women's store here in August, 1949, after owning a women's shop in Pasadena, the purpose of the sale is to prove to their patrons that: "We would prefer to make friends than to make a million dollars."

Their store, she says, can

He has to his credit a dozen one-man shows in California, has exhibited in art institutes, museums and galleries across the country and has been receiving top awards for his oils, watercolors and lithographs since 1928.

Designer Piper has achieved similar eminence in his own field, being best known for his contemporary jewelry and metal sculpture. He has received top prizes at California State and Los Angeles County Fairs, the Wichita Art Association's Ceramic National Exhibition and the Fibre-Clay-Metal Show at the St. Paul Gallery and School of Arts. He was consulting designer in metal for House Beautiful at the 1954 county fair and is currently a designer for Allan Adler, Hollywood silver-smith.

At present, Piper is supervising installation of a three-dimensional mural which he designed and crafted in sterling silver for a private home in Palm Springs. His abstract sculpture of animals in wrought iron is seen by thousands at Las Vegas.

His exhibit here will feature gold rings set with pearls and fancy-cut semi-precious stones and other examples of his contemporary jewelry.

The current exhibit at the Sierra Madre Library, like those preceding, has been arranged by a Friends of the Library committee headed by Mrs. T. M. R. Parker.

Shopping hours at Fashion Future are from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. six days a week—except Fridays, when the store is open until 9 p.m.

police force so long that no one can remember when he wasn't here in a policeman's uniform—prowling either with a police car or with a chalked stick in his hand, marking the cars parked at the curb with such a genial smile that a lot of people figured it was worth a two-buck fine just to watch him work.

There were, of course, Art's sons—Bert and Sam and families—but after the family line was finished there were friends with equal fervor: Tom Schwartz who had been a sergeant in the State Guard when Art Embree was the captain; Fred La Lone whom everybody knows as a No. 1 postal clerk, a trapper, a head man in Sierra Madre's "Search and Rescue Crew"; and Mrs. Olive Fowler, recently retired from the Post Office, who presented Art with a camera—the gift from all the local postal employees.

Not the least of it was the gift of $123 from merchants in town who wanted to say: "Thanks, Arthur, You've been a great guy, and always will be."

What does Art Embree intend to do after his retirement? He thinks he will putter around the lawn—and do as he darn pleases. And, everybody says, he deserves it.

Kyle Palmer, political editor, Los Angeles Times says: "The political party that most appeals to the young men and women of America is the party most likely to elect a president."

address here. They are Mrs. Edward Summers, 155 W. Grandview, and Mrs. Charles Perine, 115 Esperanza.

Those who are eligible to be the lucky door-prize winners, who receive their tabs during the three-day opening celebration, are advised that they must be present during the awards-decisions which will be made Friday evening, Sept. 9, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Hornaday has announced that, aside from the major prizes, there will be savings, surprises, and fun for all during the Sept. 1-2-3 "Grand Opening" festivities.

Carlos A. Sousa, San Joaquin County sheriff, says: "A young man with unquestioned citizenship, a well balanced disposition, courage, education and character can build himself a fine career in police work."
